

Great Plains

Saturday, March 11, 2006 A3

Dino diners

A life-size animatronic Stegosaurus is seen on display Friday at "T-Rex: A Prehistoric Family Adventure," a new interactive restaurant under construction at The Legends at Village West in Kansas City, Kan.

Photos by The Associate Press

Dave Flom shows off a life-size animatronic Pachycephalosaurus during a tour Friday of the new "T-Rex: A Prehistoric Family Adventure" in Kansas City, Kan. The multilevel restaurant and retail store recreates the different environments in which dinosaurs existed and is designed to educate and entertain children. The restaurant is scheduled to open in May.